OVERVIEW: www.asvabprogram.com

REGISTER

Enter your access code in the field under LOGIN at www.asvabprogram.com.

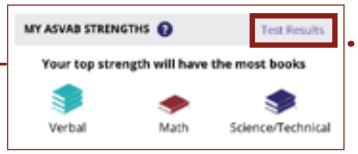

Important: Students can register their access codes using an email and password on first login. They can use the same login credentials on both www.asvabprogram.com and www.careersinthemilitary.com. They will have access to the websites for two years and don't have to worry about losing their ASR.

SCORES

Career Exploration Scores are represented using books. Select See Test Results to view full score report.

3 books = Highest Score
2 books = 2nd Highest Score
1 book = 3rd Highest Score
*Equal books = Tied Scores

Watch the Understanding Your Scores tutorial.

Important: Scores pulled from the system populate all subtest scores, including AFQT, and books appear in color. Scores entered manually display gray books, and no subtest or AFQT scores are populated.

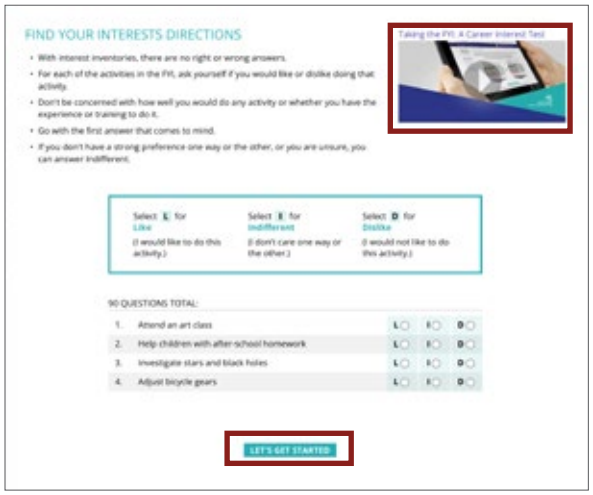

Students do not fail the ASVAB. Their scores may not qualify them for service or a particular job, but that does not exclude them from using their scores to explore careers.

LEARN

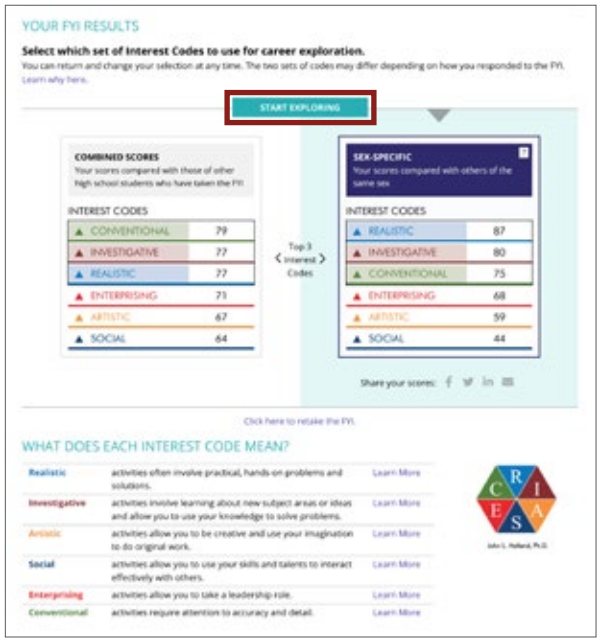

Identifying interests is the next step to finding potentially satisfying career options.

Select Take the FYI within the "Learn About Yourself" tab and watch the Taking the FYI tutorial.

Then, select LET'S GET STARTED to take the FYI.

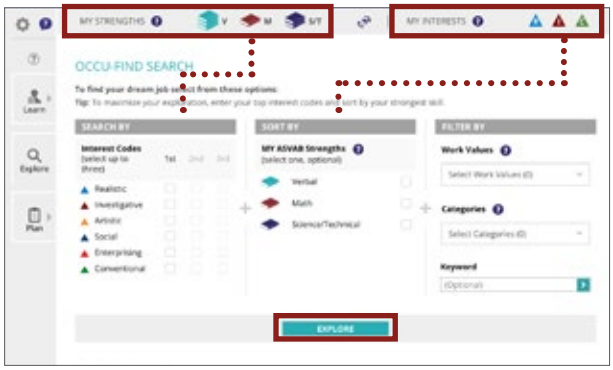

After taking the FYI, students will select the set of results (combined or sex-specific) that sounds most like them and click Next. Then, START EXPLORING.

EXPLORE

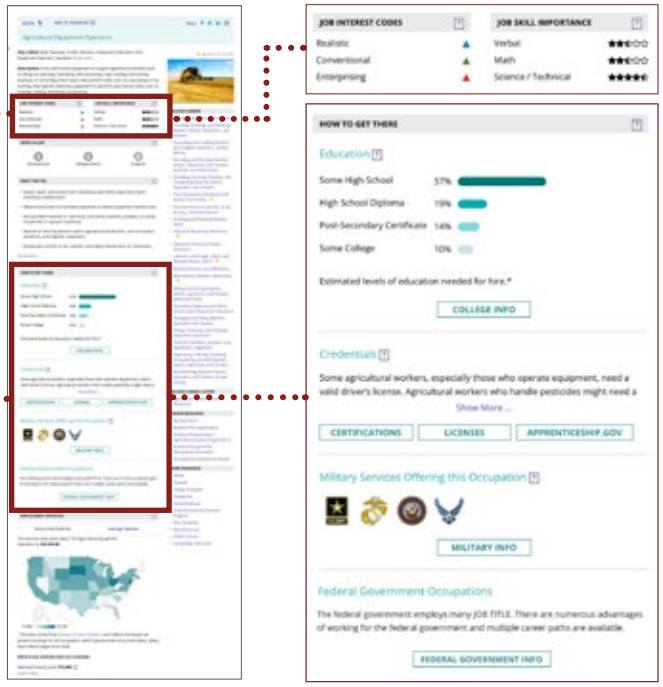

Watch the Exploring the OCCU-Find tutorial to discover all of the features available.

Encourage students to search for careers by interests and their highest Career Exploration Score.

They should review all of the data presented and compare the interest codes and skill importance ratings to their own.

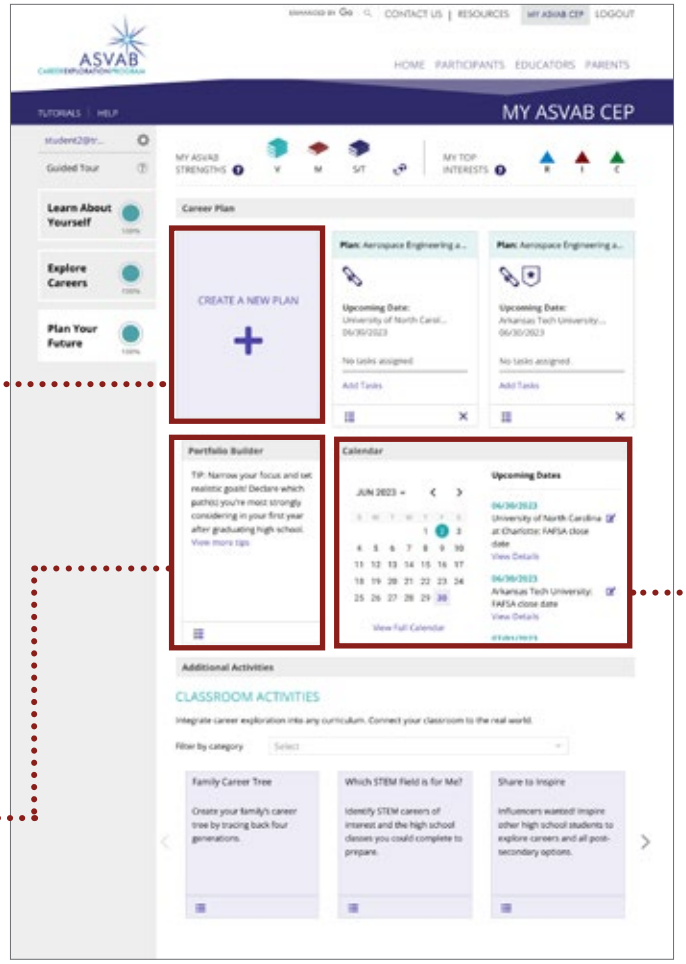

Then, explore the HOW TO GET THERE section to find options for college, credentials, the Military, and federal government.

This section allows students to explore institutions offering related degrees, credentialing programs, internship opportunities, federal government jobs and specific military jobs related to each occupation - all in one place.

CAREER PLANS

The Career Plan helps users build the action steps required to achieve their goals so they can evaluate their options and decide which path is right for them. Once users add careers to their favorites, they can build multiple plans to help them evaluate the time and resources needed to enter the career of their dreams.

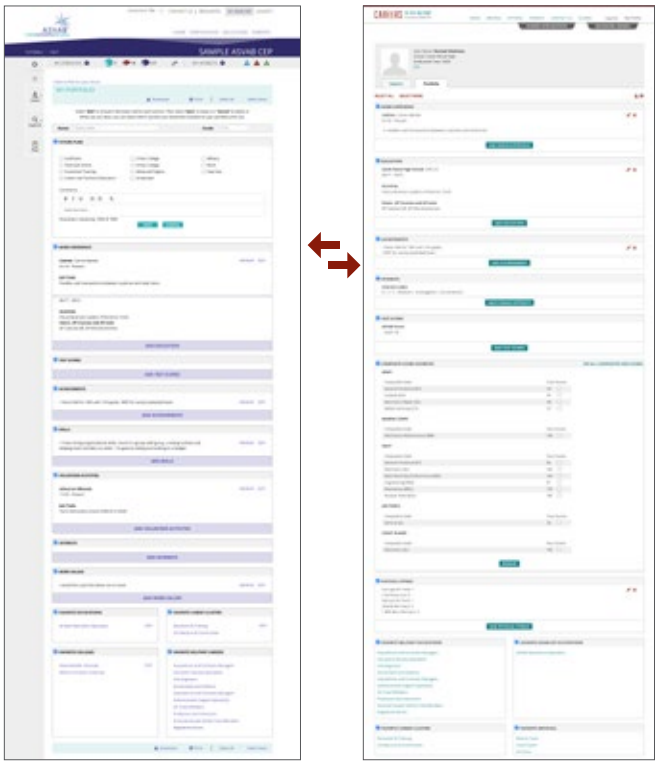

CALENDAR

Users can track important dates with the Calendar. Tasks can be added when building Career Plans.

PORTFOLIO

Users can document their favorite careers, notable achievements, and future plans on the portfolio and share it with you.

This resource is shared between www.asvabprogram.com and www.careersinthemilitary.com, meaning it can be accessed and edited on both sites. Careers in the Military users who did not participate in ASVAB CEP can still utilize this feature on www.careersinthemilitary.com.

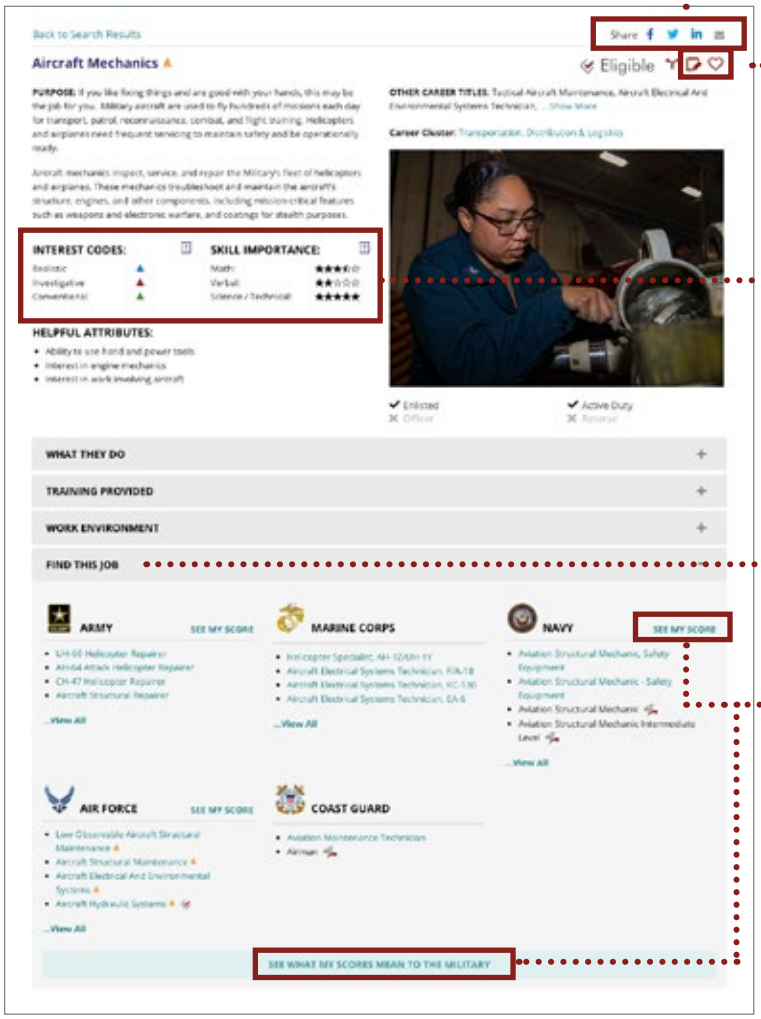

To explore military opportunities, select Military Info under Military Services Offering this Occupation in the HOW TO GET THERE section. You'll be taken to www.careersinthemilitary.com.

LEARN MORE ON THE NEXT PAGE.

Users can share content they find interesting on social media.

Account holders can save notes and favorites to their portfolios.

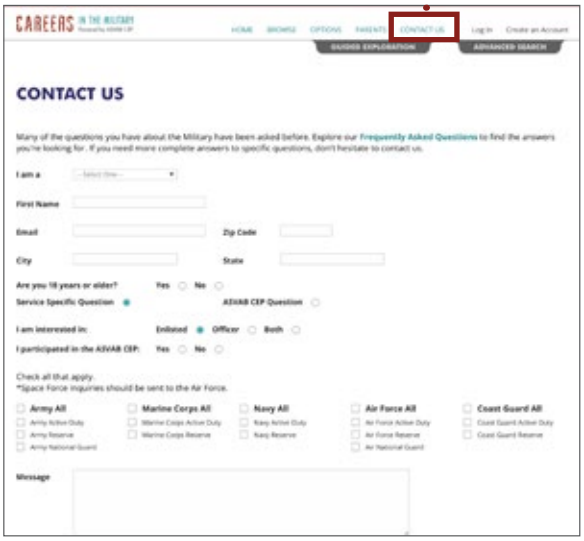

Interest codes and skill importance ratings are displayed for ASVAB CEP participants to compare to their own.

Users can see the exact jobs each Service offers.

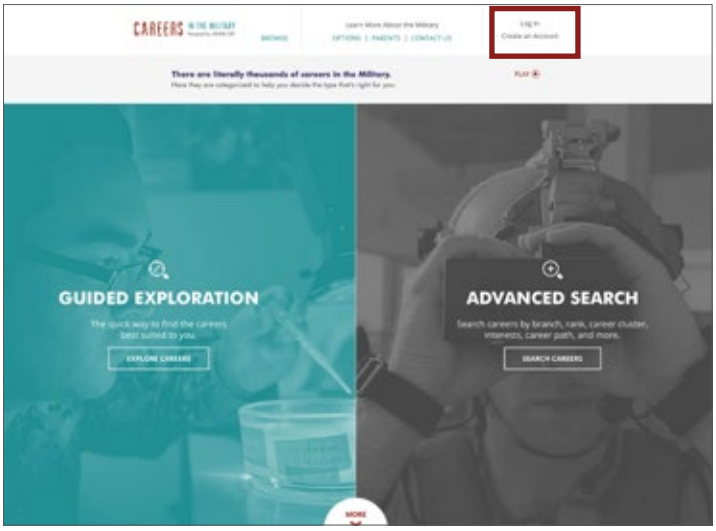

Students can show you their Service-specific line scores.

Truly the only site that allows users to contact all the Services at once with one email message.

www.careersinthemilitary.com is a useful resource even for those who have not participated in ASVAB CEP.

ASVAB CEP users will use the same login credentials on www.asvaprogram.com and www.careersinthemilitary.com.

Users can answer questions about their skills and interests to filter military careers.

Users can search military careers by keyword, branch, level, and more.

